Why Real Estate is and will continue to be attractive in Mexico?

- + Emerging middle-class with incipient growth in disposable income
- + Very large informal economy transitioning to formal segment
- + Consumer base substantially under-banked and under-levered
- Outstanding demographic bonus
- + Competitive and skilled manufacturing capability
- + Structural reforms will impact Mexico's economy over the next 20 years
- + Absolute low rent levels, relative to construction costs and peers
- + Few cities that grow fast result in increased scarcity of prime located real estate
- Significantly under-penetrated real estate in all segments we operate

Attractive Macro Drivers

Mexico is the 15th largest economy in the world and the 2nd largest in LatAm

Retail

- Severely underpenetrated segment in Mexico
- Consumption will continue to drive demand
- Mexico City is the gateway to LatAm for retailers

Industrial

- Demand surpasses current supply
- Mexico is an even more competitive export platform
- Supply and demand will balance and grow sustainably

Office

- Current inventory will not be enough
- Absorption has been record-high the last 3 years
- Tenants continue to demand Class A+ office space

Mexico is still underpenetrated in real estate

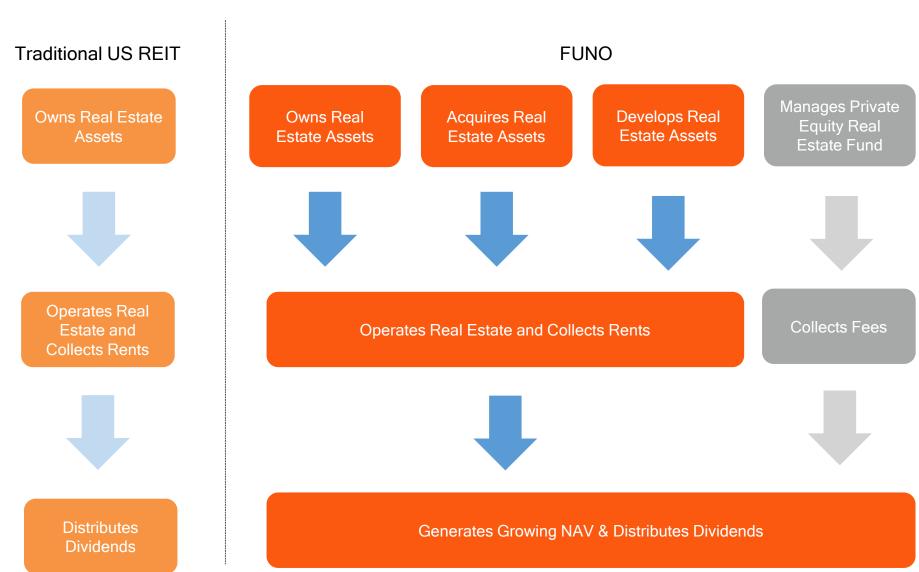

Mexico is expected to be within the top-10 economies of the world

- Demand for high-quality real estate will continue to increase
- Good locations on high-growth cities will continue to drive scarcity
- Scarcity will continue to drive the value of real estate independent of rent levels
- Higher construction and replacement costs for real estate will stimulate rent prices towards higher levels
